Reina Mercedes Sunk—

Our Hawaii.

FIRE AT CORNING, CAL.

WASHINGTON, July 7. — The White House conference decided not to storm Santiago immediately, believing its downfall can be accomplished soon without the heavy loss of men or ships that would result from storming the city.

MADRID, July 7. — It is reported here that the bombardment of Santiago begun, and the Spanish are defending it vigorously.

MADRID, July 7. — 3 p. m. — A Minister declared after the cabinet meeting today that in view of the destruction of the Spanish fleet the war must be continued lest Spain be accused of cowardice.

WASHINGTON, July 7. — Sampson sends the following, date July 6: At midnight last night the Reina Mercedes was seen by the Massachusetts, which had searchlight on, coming out of Santiago. The Massachusetts and Texas fired and the Spanish vessel was sunk off Estrella cove. I am inclined to think it was the intention to sink her in channel, thus blockading harbor entrance. If so plan was defeated by fire of ships, as she lies on the edge of channel and does not block it.

The navy department is advised that the Colon can be saved, and an effort will be made to plug the sea-cock and pump out before wreckers arrive.

WASHINGTON, July 7, 12:55. — The navy department has been notified that the Pelayo has gone through the canal. She has on board French engineers and gunners. Several days ago she was reported disabled.

VIENNA, July 7. — Austrian war ships are being concentrated to go to assistance of the Queen Regent of Spain at the first sign of disorder in Madrid.

WASHINGTON, July 7. — Gen. Shafter has announced exchange of Lieutenant Hobson and men in following telegram: "Playa del Este—To Secretary of War: Headquarters Fifth Army Corps, Cuba; Lieutenant Hobson and all his men just been safely exchanged for Spanish officers and prisoners taken by United States. All in good health except two seamen convalescing from remittent fever." SHAFER.

NEW YORK, June 7. — Dispatch from Kingston says: Hobson and his seven men were exchanged Wednesday. Hobson was escorted to the New York by Chadwick. Scenes of wildest enthusiasm as men passed through lines. Hobson said he was well treated by Spaniards.

WASHINGTON, July 7. — Shafter telegraphs this morning that he has Hobson and his men.

10:05 — Gen. Shafter has sent official denial of report that Cubans murdered wounded Spaniards or prisoners.

HONG KONG, Gen. Monet and 600 troops have surrendered to Aguinaldo.

CORNING, CAL., July 7. — The entire business portion of Corning was burned this morning.

KINGSTON, July 7. — Advice from Shafter's headquarters say he decided yesterday to resume fighting Thursday noon.

The War Department is informed that hundreds of Spanish officers and men are coming into the American lines from Santiago and it is believed that surrender will occur very soon without battle.

It is learned on high authority that Naval Attache Colwell at London cables the Navy Department that he positively knows that Spain will sue for peace within a week.

WASHINGTON, July 7. — Unofficial advices to the administration from sources heretofore accurate, say Spain will sue for peace this week. At the same time no suggestion from Spain, direct or indirect, has been received here. The government will listen if approached in the proper spirit.

General Miles leaves for the South today; destination not announced: will be Santiago or Porto Rico.

KINGSTON, July 7. — It is learned here that the Brooklyn was struck forty times by the Cristopol Colon; damage very slight.

WASHINGTON, July 7. — The Pennsylvania has been chartered. It is now believed that the next expedition for Manila will be sent out within fifteen days.

WASHINGTON, July 7. — Instructions will be sent Admiral Miller to proceed to Hawaiian Islands to raise American flag. There will be interesting ceremonies attending formal occupation of islands.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7. — Reports from Honolulu state that the Monterey and Brutus arrived there June 24th and sailed June 29th. Bad weather en route.

Their Efforts Are Appreciated.

The Overall Brigade Receives an Acknowledgment From the Red Cross Headquarters.

That the efforts of the Dewey Parlor are fully appreciated is fully confirmed in a note of acknowledgment received by the Overall Brigade from the California Association of the Red Cross. The Brigade sent over $30 to the State Association as a result of their entertainment last Saturday, and the boys and girls are highly elated with the success of their undertaking. The following is the letter received by Master Arthur Baronidis:

"The State Association of the Red Cross sends hearty greeting to the Overall Brigade of Fort Dewey, West Berkeley, and thanks this energetic Brigade for the substantial result of its patriotism. This office is very enthusiastic over the ability displayed by these young friends of our boys in blue."

Mrs. LOUIS WEINMANN,
Cor. Secretary.

The "Main" Event

Is the caption of the posters announcing the event which transpires Saturday evening at the Beacon Athletic Club quarters. The coming attraction, which will call forth the sports of the burg, and Baker who is now training at the athletic club quarters, is confident that the event, as far as he is concerned, will be a lively one.

MacCrossen, who represents the Manhattan Club, will find an opponent worthy of his best efforts in the boxing art.

Saturday is the time billed, and many tickets have been sold to help the Beacon Club in refitting and better equipping their handsome quarters.

Lavigne will box Tye and pull off the "tie" for the championship, and on the 6th of August the successful Lavigne will try for the championship of the coast. Many preliminaries will be held Saturday night and promise a good program.

Thieves at Work.

Timely Awakening of Mr. Hoag Frightens Them.

Burglars are again working in Berkeley, and citizens should see that something is done to stop such marauders.

Wednesday morning at 2 o'clock C. P. Hoag of 1619 Walnut street was roused from his peaceful slumbers by strange noises, and upon looking from his window discovered two men walking down the sidewalk towards the next house. Thinking that this was the noise which disturbed him he paid no attention to them, and it was only when he proceeded to dress that he discovered the men had been in his own home, for his trousers had disappeared. Mr. Hoag thinks that the men were frightened away before they had time to take anything else, and thinking his money might be in his trousers pockets, grabbed them and departed in haste. How they gained entrance cannot be ascertained, for there was nothing disturbed, and the only theory to be advanced is that they entered by using a skeleton key. Mr. Hoag could see that they had no shoes on, and had he thought that they were going from his home he declares he would have shot at them.

The family are camping at Inverness, but Mr. Hoag and his son Walter remain here. Before leaving, however, Mrs. Hoag had all her valuables placed in safe keeping, and Mr. Hoag keeps a revolver within reach, hence it is safe to say that burglars would not only get nothing of value, but would be very sure to meet with a warm reception.

Laid to Rest—Daniel Black.

The funeral services of Daniel Black, the man who was killed Monday night at corner of First street and Broadway, were held this morning at 10 o'clock from St. Joseph's church, where high requiem mass was said over the remains before their interment in St. Mary's cemetery. Father Phillips was assisted with the service by Father Gleason of Santa Clara. Mr. Black leaves many relatives and friends to mourn his loss. Floral offerings were many and beautiful. The pallbearers who carried the remains to their last resting place were Messrs. Albert Gregory, Michael Powell, Jacob Jacobson, W. P. Grant, James McFall and William Cain.

A Straw Ride.

Mrs. W. Scott chaperoned a party of young people who went on a straw ride to Sobrante Saturday evening. A bountiful repast was served by Mrs. Dean upon arriving there. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Sarsfield, Mrs. A. and Mrs. W. Dean, Miss Sarsfield, Miss Baker, Miss Oettl, Miss Dean, Miss Panter-Mohl, Miss Myrtle Scott, Miss M. Martin and Messrs. Sarsfield, Scott, Oettl, A. and R. Wheelan, P. Wheelan, A. W., and E. Baker and E. Hoeckel.

A Botanical Expedition.

Mr. V. K. Chesnut, a graduate of the University, who is now connected with the United States Department of Agriculture, has returned from a trip to the Round Valley reservation in Humboldt county, where he has been making botanical researches among the Indians. He will return to Washington shortly, and is at present staying with his parents in Oakland.

Nettings of the Red Cross Supper.

A Most Satisfactory Financial Showing—Music Contributed and Appreciated.

The executive committee of the Red Cross supper announce the result of their entertainment as follows:

Received.....$241.15
Expenses.....24.55
$216.60

The success is due to the good feeling that was manifested from the moment the Gazette suggested a Red Cross Fourth of July celebration and the World so ably backed it. Both papers have given freely to the cause, not only their columns but the individual work of head and hands.

Mr. Shilling donated the coffee that entertained the multitude, and Mr. J. J. Wright of the Golden Scent Bakery made it. To these friends of the cause we owe a thousand thanks, for when nothing but sandwiches remained of the quantities of food sent in, we felt that such a cup of coffee was worth the price of the supper—and no one said it was not. Mr. Wright was our main support; the tables and dishes were loaned by him, and he was our ablest counselor and aid.

We owe the presence of the band to Colonel Carrington and Mr. J. W. Richards, who landed them at our door and saw them home without disturbing the treasury of the Red Cross. Mr. Shattuck generously gave us the use of the hall, and the whole of the M. E. Church was at our disposal.

The others whom we wish to thank are too numerous to mention individually, for the women of North, South, East and West Berkeley united under the banner of the Red Cross to further its every effort, and the Fourth of July entertainment is only one of its results.

E. H. DAVENPORT, Chairman.

Executive Committee: Mrs. Marquand, Professor T. R. Bacon, Mrs. Chick, Mr. J. L. Barker, Miss Brockway, Rev. Doyle.

Results of a Called Meeting.

The business meeting held in the North Berkeley Congregational church last evening in response to a petition of twenty of its members was for the purpose of extending a call to Rev. Clarke Robbins, the former pastor of this church. It resulted in the decision not to issue this call. Mr. John McCarthy presided and after lengthy discussing by the members, both pro and con, he put the motion to vote which resulted in 15 to 21 in favor of giving the call. This was not enough of a majority as the rules of the church provide that there shall be a two-thirds vote of one-half of the resident members over eighteen years of age. The church is still looking for a shepherd.

A Progressive Order.

At the meeting of the Knights of Honor last evening Mr. Charles Johnson was initiated as a member of the lodge and Frank R. Wilkins and Mr. Frick were elected as members. The lodge will meet every Wednesday hereafter, and on the next meeting night the election of officers for the ensuing term will take place.

West Berkeley Budget.

Chosen Friends Will Visit—Activity at the Wharf—Red Cross Meeting.

The West Berkeley Council of Chosen Friends, in company with Councils from Oakland and Golden Gate, will visit the San Pablo Council this evening.

Mr. Remond, the West Berkeley carrier received a shipment of leather this morning from Benecia. The consignment, which is valued at $3,000, will be prepared for harness makers.

There will be a meeting of vital interest to the members of the Red Cross at Mrs. Wheeler's, 771 University avenue, tomorrow evening. All who wish to join the organization are cordially invited.

Foss & McNulty, the East Berkeley coal and grain dealers, are receiving a consignment of 400 bales of hay at the wharf.

Praise from Abroad.

The Efforts of the Local Red Cross Society Have Made Good Impressions.

The Headquarters at San Francisco speak very highly of the Berkeley Red Cross Society. They say that this branch has done more for the movement than any other and that they can depend upon Berkeley for a great deal of assistance. It seems that we are the only society which makes the plaster bandages and as soon as arrangements can be made the work will be continued.

The excellent success and liberal patronage of the supper on the Fourth has convinced the society that the citizens are yet loyal to the interest which lies so near the heart of the society.

A Fortunate Termination.

Frank Dickson, the Lorin barber, met with an accident this morning which, while not serious, was somewhat expensive. He had partly hitched his horse to a small cart and thought to drive outside the gate and finish, but in doing so the cart struck the side of the gate; this so frightened the horse that it ran away, overturning the cart and smashing things up generally. Mr. Dickson was thrown out but fortunately not hurt further than a few slight scratches, but his cart was badly demolished. After running for a short distance the horse was caught and the remnants of the cart taken to a repair shop.

A Berkeleyan in London.

Professor Rising Sends an Interesting Letter to A. W. Naylor.

LONDON, June 16, 1898.

Mr. A. W. Naylor, Berkeley Bank, Berkeley—My Dear Naylor: I reached London safe and sound and have been here already three weeks, and during this three weeks my health is improved far more than I dared to have anticipated. I find that I am longing to hear of things in California. I wish you to keep me posted in regard to things in Berkeley.

My present plans will keep me a few days in London, and thence I will go to Paris and remain probably a week; from Paris to Germany; possibly Aix-la-Chapelle, where I may make a stay of a few weeks and thence to Vienna. I expect to reach this latter place by the 20th or 25th of July. I shall attend the congress of chemists there, making the excursions, etc., and then go south to Venice, Florence, Rome and Naples. From Naples I shall take a steamer of the North German-Lloyd direct to New York by way of Gibraltar.

So far my trip has been more than pleasant, and the fact that I have gained in health has added very much to the satisfaction of the journey. I may say that I see my way clear to announce that my trip has been more than a success.

I am very truly yours,

W. B. RISING.

P. S.—My address will be Thos. Cook & Son, 1, Stephansplatz 2, Vienna, Austria.

Promiscuous Scattering of Gravel.

Last evening about 6:15, the gravel train which was hauling gravel for the new track being laid to Berkeley met with a slight accident. It ran down into the switch a little too far, which caused the rails to spread and one car was pushed off the track. Section hands have been working today getting it back onto the track.

The Aftermath of the Fourth.

The serenity of Berlin was disturbed last evening by a certain man who resides near First street and Telegraph avenue. He had imbibed a little too freely and became so belligerent that he offered to whip every one in sight. He was taken in custody by friends, and after some hard work on their part he was taken home, where he sobered up.

A HEARTY welcome to Hawaii, Columbia's starry crown grows more beautiful as it grows larger. Our Stephen did more with his mouth than he could have done with his vote.

Among the greatest crimes of Spanish authorities is that of the censors who suppress the facts and claim victory for ignominious defeat. If the censors will consult the census they may regain their senses.

The brilliancy of the fireworks and general huzzas of the populace totally eclipsed the political cynosures on the Fourth, but they now come forth "fresh" from their habitations, with new "fire" and an accumulated pressing "requests from their friends" to carry on a straight campaign.

In recording the action of Congress yesterday this morning's Call gives unusual prominence to the success of Mr. Huntington in securing a virtual refunding of the Pacific Road debts, and illustrates in a smaller type the overwhelming defeat of the filibustering senators in attempting to deprive California of her rights—the Hawaiian Islands. Is there any significance in the event?

SENATOR White should give us one evidence of a "white" man, and forever refrain from mentioning that the Senate had "unstrained undue discussion which had transcended proper parliamentary limits and prohibited a full and free discussion," since the greater part of the time given for presenting this measure was occupied by "Steven." Brother Steven would have to be "rocked to sleep" as was his apostolic predecessor, before he will cease his dilations upon "usurped authority and untrammelled vote."

The wise policy of Admiral Dierichs, the commander of the German fleet now in Manila bay, in rejecting the offer of the Spanish Governor-General to hand over to a neutral commander the Philippines for a provisional government under Germany, is to be commended. The duplicity of the Spanish Governor is too shallow for the German to be inveigled by such a flimsy concern as the Spanish Government. This policy of Admiral Dierichs forestalls for the present any further entanglement between the American Government and Emperor William.

In view of the fact that the Brooklyn, which seemed a target for the combined ships of the Spanish fleet on Sunday received thirty-seven shots with no effect, it is self-evident that the declaration of civilized America that the Spanish cannot carry on a modern warfare is well verified. When inhumanity is resorted to and destruction of property, there is no one who can compete with Spanish soldiers. But when it comes to gunnery, ingenuity, charity for suffering captives, and sense of honor, their policy is as ineffective as their artillery.

From all current expressions of naval and military authorities it looks as though the capture of Santiago is a stupendous undertaking and much time must be given to more thoroughly equipping the army and placing in position more artillery for the assault. Regardless of the excellent victory at Puerto de Cuba by Commodore Schley on July 3d, it seems that the Spanish forces are formidably intrenched in Santiago, and are able to repulse the present force of General Shafter with appalling destruction. The policy of strengthening the forces is one of profound wisdom.

Off the coast of Sable Island, more properly known among seamen as the "ocean graveyard," occurred one of the greatest oceanic disasters that history records. July 4th, when patriotic Americans were celebrating the happy crew of the La Bourgoigne were suddenly launched into a watery grave. The scene of this disaster since 1802 has been the graveyard of over 200 vessels with their innocent crews. A list of the survivors indicate that a large quota of steerage passengers, of Italian and French nationality, are rescued, and it is claimed that they cruelly forbid the privilege of placing of drowning women and children in the ship's boats.

A NEEDLESS expenditure of time, it seems, has been consumed by the Rt. Rev. Father Yorke in denouncing the Examiner for "yellow journalism." It seems that Father Yorke but speaks the sentiments of thousands of people who are not affected by the "yellow fever," and consider the policy pursued by the paper under the reverend gentleman's ban as inconducive to good morals, to say nothing of its proficiency in stretching the thread of truth until it fractures. The grounds taken for objection by the venerable clergyman is that the paper is inimical to the best interests of his chosen faith. We question what religious society would be fostered by "Gentle Willie."

AIDING WORTHY YOUNG MEN.

In the University of California are student organizations, the Young Men's and Young Women's Christian Associations, which aim to give practical assistance to students at the institution in almost every department of college life. Everything that can be done of a helpful nature is willingly performed, and with no expense to any student.

When the fall term begins at the University between 400 and 500 new students go to Berkeley from all parts of the State. During August the Y. M. C. A. makes a house-to-house canvass of Berkeley, in order to obtain a complete list of all rooming and boarding places, with full information concerning them.

This is placed at the disposal of all students, and a reception committee is at hand to conduct strangers about the town. In this way about 150 students were helped last fall to find comfortable homes.

Some students who cannot afford to pay from $20 to $25 a month for board and room form clubs of from ten to twelve members, and by this means their expenses are reduced to from $10 to $15 a month. The associations propose to bring together those new students who desire to enter such clubs, and to help them to secure suitable houses. Any young men or women who desire to reduce their expenses and to find pleasant homes in this way may obtain information by correspondence or by a personal visit to Stiles hall.

In the Association building, Stiles Hall and in the North hall, information bureaus will be open from August 13th to August 22d, where association members will furnish information about courses of instruction and the details of matriculation and registration, which are quite complicated for new students.

This year the young men's Christian Association has undertaken a new and most important line of work. Many students depend upon their own efforts for their support while in college. In order to assist them in finding suitable places to work the association conducts an employment bureau, through whose agency many young men and women find odd jobs or permanent positions. The general secretary has charge of this department. Formerly this work was done by the Students Aid Society, but last year it was transferred to the Y. M. C. A. Information on any of the above subjects may be obtained by corresponding with Miss Edith Brown, Sill or Reno Hutchinson, Berkeley, Cal.

SENATOR STRATTON DECLINES.

State Senator Fred S. Stratton, who has just returned from a business trip East, and whose name was repeatedly mentioned as a possibility on the Hawaiian Islands Commission, states positively that under no circumstances will he accept the appointment of Commissioner from the Pacific coast. He declares that while in Washington an offer of this important position was made him. The Congressional delegation from this State and a number of Senators from other Western states had united upon his name, but after an extended conference with Senator Perkins, Mr. Stratton states, he declined.

PROBLEMS OF THE WAR

Henry Watterson on Disposition of Islands We May Capture.

FAVORS HOLDING ALL OF THEM.

To Surrender Cuba, Porto Rico, and the Philippines After Acquiring Them Would Be, He Asserts, a Cowardly Abandonment of Obligations—Our Country Destined to Be a World Power. Views on Alliance With England.

I had a long talk with Henry Watterson recently relative to some of the problems growing out of the present war, and Mr. Watterson gave his views fully and frankly. "In the event that the Philippine islands, Cuba and Porto Rico are captured by the American troops at the conclusion of the present war, what disposition do you think should be made of them?" I asked. "I think we should retain possession of them," Mr. Watterson replied. "Would you regard the possession of those islands necessary to indemnify us for the cost and sacrifice of the war or essential to the protection of our commerce or our citizens having interests in them?" "Direct indemnification for the losses of a war such as this is not of the first consequence. No money indemnity could satisfy us or be collected of Spain. A nation of shopkeepers they call us, and a nation of shopkeepers we may be, but in this business we are not after money. If Spain were less barbarous and corrupt, we could afford to be more generous. "We set out to free Cuba of Spanish misrule and incidentally to redress a long series of Spanish outrages, culminating in the destruction of the Maine. But war rarely ends where it began. The war for the Union began with the declaration that it was not waged to free the slaves and ended with the abolition of slavery. The conquest of arms raises up unexpected conditions and responsibilities. The truth is that Spain is reaping the evil fruit of three centuries of national debauchery, and it is simply a historic accident that the final settlement of the account is relegated to the United States.

"We are, as it were, a trustee of civilization. In that character we shall presently find ourselves masters of a great deal of outlying territory, such as Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippine islands, having by that time already possessed ourselves of Hawaii. With these acquisitions there will spring into existence not merely a crop of commercial interests hitherto unknown, but of national aspirations hitherto undreamed of. We can no more escape these than we could any other imposition of good or ill fortune.

"To surrender territory acquired by the outlay of so much blood and treasure would be a wanton and cowardly abandonment of obligations and opportunities literally heaven sent, for they were not originally contemplated by anybody. We cannot remand the Philippines to Spain or commit them to a population incapable of self government, to become a prey of European diplomacy. Neither can we sell them to some purchasing power. We are bound to keep Porto Rico, if for nothing else than a coaling station, in case we get it. Look at the map of the West Indies. See where Cuba lies right across our southern water front. Will any sane man say that we should ever permit it, once acquired, to pass out of our control?"

"Should the United States, in view of these things, change its traditional foreign policy?"

"The traditional stay at home and mind your own business policy laid down by Washington was wise for a weak and struggling nation; and, if it could be adhered to, would be wise for every people. But such of the centuries has its own tale of progress to tell, and it is up to its own prompts to be solved. The difference between a scattered population, fringing the east Atlantic seaboard, and 80,000,000 of people occupying and mastering the continent from the Atlantic to the Pacific, is too great to admit of contrast.

"As no preceding cycle, the intervening century has revolutionized the world. Another century may witness the transfer of human ambitions and activities from Europe and America to Asia and Africa. The Pacific, and not the Atlantic, may become the wash basin of the universe. Can the United States stand apart and aside while these movements of mankind, like a running stream, pass them by, an isolated and helpless mass of accumulated and corrupting riches? We could not if we would and we should not if we could.

"We must adapt ourselves to the changed order. We must make a new map. The vista, as it opens to our sight, is not so great as would have been the vista of Texas and California, Florida and Alaska to the eye of Washington. For all his wisdom the Father of His Country could not foresee electricity nor estimate the geographic contractions it would bring. Already the old world is receding. Another world is coming into view. The statesmanship of the twentieth century must address itself to this and will be largely constructive in its character. The cloth has been already partly cut out. It remains for statesmen to put it together so that the world may wear it.

"The United States from now on is destined to be a world power. Henceforth its foreign policy will need to be completely reconstructed. The man who would cling to the traditions of Washington is as one who would reject the railway and travel by the stagecoach, or, disclaiming the highway, would strike through the woods."

"Do you think we should permanently increase our army and navy and enter into a competition with the European powers in and across the Pacific?"

"Undoubtedly. From a nation of shopkeepers we become a nation of warriors. We escape the menace and peril of socialism and agrarianism, as England has escaped them, by a policy of colonization and conquest. From a provincial buddle of petty sovereignties held together by a rope of sand we rise to the dignity and prowess of an imperial republic incomparably greater than Rome."

"It is true that we exchange domestic dangers for foreign dangers, but in every direction we multiply the opportunities of the people. We risk Caesarism certainly, but even Caesarism is preferable to anarchy. We risk wars, but a man has but one time to die, and either in peace or war he is not likely to die until his time comes. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof. In short, anything is better than the peace we were going before these present forces were started into life. Already the young manhood of the country is as a goodly band snatched from the burning and given a perspective replete with noble deeds and elevating ideas. "On what ground would you favor the much talked of Anglo-American alliance?"

"I have never been, as you know, an Anglomaniac. I have regarded England as our greatest rival. Indeed as a life-long friend of Ireland I have held the English at arm's length. But the position of some disastrous misdeeds, whenever Ireland has had a show of better times has made me despair of Irish freedom in that direction and by the old process of agitation, armed or otherwise. Indeed, Mr. Gladstone being dead, the Irish seem now to have more to expect from the Conservatives than from the Liberals, and hence in this particular regard the Irish question is eliminated altogether.

"In a general way, let me add, I have not much faith in international alliances. They often serve a purpose on occasion. Like an umbrella, they are good for a rainfall, but scarcely for a roof. Yet it cannot be denied that we are of the same blood and faith, and no American would willingly see ill come to England so we might very well join the English in the work of putting the Anglo-Saxon imprint upon the reorganization of China and the repatriation of territories in Africa and in Asia."

"What is your opinion of African sentiment as to these questions?"

"That is a matter to be determined by the future. Inevitably they will involve prolonged and it may be arduous discussion. All other issues will be subordinated to them. In my opinion, however, the end is inevitable. We have thrown off the swaddling clothes of national babyhood and stand forth an international giant, arm and cap-a-pie."—Cor. New York Herald.

Dr. W. E. Tuchwood will give special attention to chronic diseases. Office and residence in Bailey Block.

A New Obstacle.

The old obstacle that used to prevent the marriage of loving couples are out of date. The blood and thunder villain is a myth nowadays. The cruel father is only a tradition. Distance, absence and shipwreck in these days of cheap, safe and swift transportation do not count. The new obstacle is a common sense one. It is ill-health on one side or the other, and sometimes on both.

Men nowadays hesitate to marry a woman no matter how beautiful, no matter how attractive or interesting or witty, if she is a sufferer from ill-health. All men worth having desire happy, healthy children. Any woman who will may fit herself for the duties of wifehood and the exalted function of motherhood. Dr. Pierce's Great Peppermint Cure.

Prescription banishes all hindrance in the nature of local ill-health. It gives health, portance organs concerned in childhood, maturity. It corrects all displacements, allays inflammation, heals ulceration, stops exhausting drains and soothes pain. It prepares for natural, healthy motherhood. It makes maternity easy and safe and almost painless. It insures a new-comer constitutionally strong and able to withstand the usual ills of babyhood. It is the greatest of nerve tonics and restoratives. Medicine dealers sell it and an honest dealer will not urge a substitute upon you.

"After suffering untold tortures," writes Mrs. J. Ferguson, of Box 29, Douglas Station, Selkirk Co., Manitoba, "this medicine relieved me and gave me Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription."

The profit side of life is health. The balance is written in the rich, red, pure blood of health. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation and make the blood rich and pure. They never gripe. By druggists.

ALTERATION SALE NOW IN PROGRESS

As a rule this is considered the dullest time of the year, but in many circumstances make business, and just now, though we have merely intimated an increase in our store room, and are hardly through preparing our stock for the great reductions in prices, which are going to rule during this sale, our store was crowded with customers eager to take advantage of the many bargains marked out in all directions.

By to-morrow we expect to issue 20,000 pamphlets which will give some idea of our reduced price lists and show how money can be saved just now.

However, these pamphlets do not represent by any means the actual bulk of our stock, but are merely signs which indicate the general trend of prices which is taking place all through the house.
